Shopping / Cuisine / Culture

Shopping in Bonn
Chic boutiques, traditional specialist stores, modern department stores, trendy shopping arcades and colourful markets make shopping in Bonn a real pleasure. And the offer is not limited to one of Germany’s oldest and largest pedestrian precincts in the heart of the city, but also extends to the shopping high streets of the city districts Bad Godesberg, Beuel and Hardtberg. Designer fashion, toys, art and craft, musical memories from the city of Beethoven or the region’s culinary specialities – all of these souvenirs can be found in Bonn.

Culinary Diversity
The university city of Bonn is a young and dynamic city that offers culinary specialities from many countries around the world; however, visitors who are looking for typical German cuisine and a cosy Rhenish beer tavern, are just as likely to find it in the centre of the city. In the evenings, a visit to the student quarters, Old Town (behind the Stadthaus town hall), Südstadt quarter (between Prinz-Albert-Straße and Poppelsdorfer Allee) or Poppelsdorf (close to the palace) can always be recommended. The culinary diversity ranges from the traditional, rustic pub and exotic speciality restaurants all the way to fine gourmet restaurants and nightly hot spots. The ‘Endenich cultural mile’ is a major attraction with its cabarets, pubs and bars. During the summers Bonn’s citizens and visitors like to sit by the Rhine and enjoy the magnificent panoramic views offered by the city’s beautiful beer gardens and traditional wine taverns. Bonn’s flourishing outdoor bar and restaurant scene and Rhenish flair has led to it sometimes being called ‘Italy’s northernmost city’.

Further information on Bonn’s restaurants, bars, taverns and events can be found in the ‘bonjour’ and ‘Bonner Illustrierte’ magazines, as well as on the Internet at www.bonn.de and www.bonn-region.de.
